Barre had a surfeit of very superior band music Labor day. In the forenoon the Cristoforo Colombo band, composed of young Italian musicians led by P. Gropelli, marched from Granite street to City square and delighted a large crowd with a selection of patriotic and popular airs. Under the direction of Mr. Gropelli, the youngsters have their ears clearly attuned to harmony and a well rounded organization has been perfected. They were liberally applauded. Last night there was another large crowd out for the Barre Citizens' band program. It was a repertoire of snappy airs which the older musicians played and each number was enthusiastically received.

Shrimpers in this city and Montpelier are getting ready for the annual clam bake of St. Simon's temple. Calabash park has been chosen as a setting for this year's outing and while arrangements for the party get together are in the making somewhat later than in other years, the bake will not be permitted to suffer by comparison with similar outings in the past. It will be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, Sept. 29, and shrimpers who are receiving invitations from the club members are asked to bring their wives. Calabash park is an ideal spot for a clam bake and a large amount of energy will be used in making the affair a success. There is ample room on the grounds for parking cars. Those who do not make the trip by motor will probably have the benefit of special train service over the Montpelier & Wells River railroad.
